

Wire & Cable

CTG wire and cable is used in industries including aerospace, automotive, agricultural, industrial distribution, wire rope sling shops, sporting goods and marine. Aircraft cable assemblies are used for primary applications such as flight controls and secondary applications such as lanyards, in landing gear and doors.

CTG can provide the common sizes of aircraft cable and wire rope from 1/16" to 1/2", as well as heavier gauge cable for industrial and marine applications. Terminals, clamps, thimbles, and sleeves are all available for stocking. Cable assemblies in custom sizes and fittings can be ordered and completed right at the factory.
